

Residents of the quake-hit village of Tabanlı clamber (Turkey) over the rubble on 23/10/2011

Estimated 1,000 buildings have been damaged and around 1,000 feared dead and which may rise.

Local residents and rescuers search the ruins of a collapsed building in Van (Turkey) after the earthquake.

Injured people receive care at a temporary medical centre

Residents help survivors escape from the ruins of a collapsed building in Van

Rescue workers work into the night to save people trapped under the rubble

